

Phil Lyman is a 5th generation Utahn running for governor to fight for conservative principles and Utah values. He is known for his bold, principled leadership in San Juan County, where he served as a county commissioner, and in the Utah House of Representatives, where he has represented southeastern Utah since 2019. An accountant, Phil led a 2014 protest against federal road closures and has long prioritized the fight to reduce federal control over Utah's lands.

As a state legislator, Lyman sponsored or co-sponsored 65 bills, focusing on property and water rights, rural healthcare, and natural resources management. Phil is a strong advocate for state sovereignty, fighting relentlessly against federal and special interest groups' meddling in Utah's land, water, and energy resources. Phil and his wife Jody have five children and 17 grandchildren.

Natalie Clawson, his running mate, is a lawyer who sponsored the Secure Vote Utah initiative. She is a strong defender of the First Amendment and religious freedom. She has also fought to support and protect our children in education. Natalie and her husband Craig are the parents of five children.

For more information on Phil, Natalie, and Team Lyman's policy priorities, please see www.lymanforutah.com

KEY POLICY PRIORITIES

Make the Economy Work for Utah Families

- Use the principles of free markets, limited regulation, and low taxes to make homes affordable again
- Commit to reducing the size of government, pushing back against federal overreach, and empowering county government
- Enact meaningful tax cuts that will ease Utah's tax burden

Get the Woke Agenda Out of Our Schools

- Return schools to their traditional role of teaching foundational academics
- Protect all our children from the woke agenda

Get Illegal Immigration Under Control

- Empower sheriffs and state to remove incentives for illegal immigration
- Streamline the legal immigration process

Phil Lyman is a 5th generation Utahn running for governor to fight for conservative principles and Utah values. He is known for his bold, principled leadership in San Juan County, where he served as a county commissioner, and in the Utah House of Representatives, where he has represented southeastern Utah since 2019. An accountant, Phil led a 2014 protest against federal road closures and has long prioritized the fight to reduce federal control over Utah's lands.

As a state legislator, Lyman sponsored or co-sponsored 65 bills, focusing on property and water rights, rural healthcare, and natural resources management. Phil is a strong advocate for state sovereignty, fighting relentlessly against federal and special interest groups' meddling in Utah's land, water, and energy resources. Phil and his wife Jody have five children and 17 grandchildren.

Natalie Clawson, his running mate, is a lawyer who sponsored the Secure Vote Utah initiative. She is a strong defender of the First Amendment and religious freedom. She has also fought to support and protect our children in education. Natalie and her husband Craig are the parents of five children.

For more information on Phil, Natalie, and Team Lyman's policy priorities, please see www.lymanforutah.com

KEY POLICY PRIORITIES

Make the Economy Work for Utah Families

- Use the principles of free markets, limited regulation, and low taxes to make homes affordable again
- Commit to reducing the size of government, pushing back against federal overreach, and empowering county government
- Enact meaningful tax cuts that will ease Utah's tax burden

Get the Woke Agenda Out of Our Schools

- Return schools to their traditional role of teaching foundational academics
- Protect all our children from the woke agenda

Get Illegal Immigration Under Control

- Empower sheriffs and state to remove incentives for illegal immigration
- Streamline the legal immigration process